Education

National University of Singapore

Ph.D. in Operations Research and Analytics

- Advisors: Zhenyu Hu, Joel Goh

Singapore

2021–Present

National University of Singapore

B.Eng. in Industrial Systems Engineering and Management, Highest Distinction

Minor in Financial Mathematics

Singapore

2017–2021

2018–2021

Australian National University

Exchange Program in Business and Economics

Canberra, Australia

2020

Research Interests

Applications: Innovation Sourcing, Healthcare Operations Management, Platform Operations

Methodologies: Applied Game Theory, Dynamic Programming, Dynamic Contracting, Optimization

Working Papers

1. “The Strategic Secretary Problem,” with Joel Goh.
2. “Delegating Innovation: Sequential and Parallel Search under Competition,” with Zhi Chen and Zhenyu Hu.
3. “Dynamic Contract Design: Managing Human-AI Collaboration in Innovation,” with Ying-Ju Chen, Tian Feng, and Yangge Xiao.

Work-In-Progress

1. “Sourcing Innovation: Sequential Search under Competition with Leaderboards,” with Zhi Chen and Zhenyu Hu.
2. “Sensitivity Analysis for Epidemiological Compartmental Models,” with Peng Dai, Sze-Chuan Suen, and Joel Goh.
3. “Large-Scale Home Health Care Routing and Scheduling,” with Joel Goh, Stephanie Ko, and Yvonne H. Zhu.

Teaching Experience

Guest Instructor

DBA4811 Analytics for Consulting (BBA)

Fall 2025

- Designed and delivered lectures on machine learning algorithms, primarily covering non-linear methods.

Teaching Assistant

BMA5017 Managerial Operations and Analytics (MBA)

Fall 2023

DBA4711 Applied Analytics (Undergraduate)

Spring 2023

IE6001 Foundations of Optimization (Ph.D.)

Fall 2022

Tutorial Instructor

IE2111 ISE Principles & Practice (Undergraduate Core)

Spring 2021

- Conducted 11 tutorial sessions for undergraduate students on engineering economics and risk analysis.
